It is not best to pay attention to all the cries of fraud and mismanagement which are annually uttered against the management of our State spancial address because they often come from these who, if in office, would give as great, if not greater, cause for complaint. But it is well to give heed to some of OFFICE-Old Clerk's Office Building. the utterances which are now found in the newspapers of this as well as other States, regarding the financial condition of Kentucky. Last summer the cry of mismanagement of our public funds was the principal argument of the Republican editors and speakers, and it required very neat work on part of Democratic politicians to combat the bad effect of this weapon of our adverty, as a candidate for Congress in this the saries, and it was not always done Pin Congressional District, subject to the successfully. . We have hanging in Lawrence car enormous public debt—something 51 acres header which could have been, with prop-er management, avoided. Kentucky has not been engaged in any enterprises of a public character which have called for a large expenditure bick of money, and a worse than depleted treasury can only be the result of either bad legislation or peculation. We can not believe it to be caused by the latter. If the former, it is in the power of our legislators to remdy the evil, and we say that one
